CIAJ PROFILE

Who we are

Connecting all industries and generations to co-create the future

We play an important role as a bridge to the prosperous new future by connecting one's various creative ideas based on information and communication technology.

The Communications and Information Network Association of Japan (CIAJ) promotes the further use and advancement of information and communication technologies (ICT), aiming for the robust growth of all industries that provides and/or utilize the ICT by bringing together diverse industries and sharing insights. Through such initiatives, CIAJ has the mission of contributing to solving social issues and realizing an enriching society in Japan as well as a sustainable global community.

CIAJ was established in 1948 as a voluntary industry association composed mainly of telecom terminal manufacturers and network infrastructure vendors. In 2009, CIAJ became a general incorporated association, and its current regular members include a wide range of communication network and equipment vendors, telecom carriers, service providers and user companies.

Acting as a voice for the ICT industry, CIAJ is committed to the healthy development of the industry. We strive to further strengthen our capabilities to present policy proposals as well as advocate industry views on government policies, establish a suitable environment for the creation of new businesses by promoting the use of ICT, encourage global business initiatives and tackle common industry issues, such as easing the industry's impact on the environment.

CIAJ Activities

CIAJ contributes to the advancement of ICT as the industry association representing ICT.

Policy requests and industry views on government policies for the vitalization of the ICT industry

CIAJ compiles its members' opinions on major government policies and submits a "Request for the Information and Communications Network Industry" to the Ministers of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications, the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry, and the Digital Agency every year.

The Chairman submitted a CIAJ policy proposal to Parliamentary Vice-Minister of Internal Affairs and Communications in May 2025.

Creation of new businesses

Initiatives aimed at early implementation of new technologies in society

Toward the realization of the "next-generation information and communications infrastructure," we are working with relevant government ministries and telecommunications carriers to quickly bring all photonics networks(APN) into society.

Opinion-exchange meeting on APN between CIAJ and Japanese government in January 2025.

Participating in business events

CIAJ is co-organizing CEATEC, a comprehensive exhibition of digital innovation every year.

Market research

Statistical data and market trend surveys on telecommunications equipment are used by companies as information on industry trends for business planning and policy recommendations.

Publication of "Mid-term Demand Forecast for Telecommunications Equipment."

Human resources development

CIAJ has launched a "Workshop for a Network to Create the Future" to discuss Japan's future network across generations and to make policy requests to the government by young generation people, with an aim to connect to the development of the ICT industry.

Furthermore, CIAJ continues to support "WiCON," a wireless technology contest for KOSEN(technical college) students in Japan, as one of the organizers.

The objective is to support the human resources development and solve regional issues through wireless technology demonstrations by students.

Cross-generational discussion in the "Workshop for a Network to Create the Future."

Minister of Internal Affairs and Communications Award Team in the "WiCON 2024."
